ABE RUEF MAY HAVE TO GO BACK TO CELL IN JAIL

JUDGE LAWLOR DEMANDS "EXTRAORDINARY REASONS"

Former Boss Has Task Before Him to Maintain His Present Liberty

Appears in Court Today for First Time in Year, Technical Hearing of Case Put Over Until Wednesday

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Unless he can show extraordinary reasons for retaining his liberty on bail, Abraham Ruef will have to go to the county jail before the close of the week and remain until the appeal which he has carried to the District Court is decided.

On his first trial in almost a year the former boss appeared in court this morning in company with a host of attorneys in response to an order from Judge Lawlor directing him to show cause why he should not be returned to prison, and although the taking of testimony and slowing in connection with the case was continued until Wednesday next for hearing several interesting facts in connection with Ruef's appeal which have not been made public were revealed.

Ruef's statement to the law office of his attorney, H. C. Stoddard, was that he had been compelled to leave the country because of the conduct of the other boss with whom he had been associated, and that he should be granted a new trial or should be given a long sentence.

A trial was expected yesterday in the U. S. circuit court with the exception of Ruth Bell who died last Friday, but the hearing was adjourned until Wednesday next at the instance of the U. S. marshal, W. M. T. Smith, who had been appointed by the court to act as a special agent in the case.

W. H. BRADBURY ELDEST SON OF RELEASED FROM MARSHAL HENRY PRISON

BUSINESS MAN GOES TO EUROPE

Max Gross Leaves Today for An Extended Trip Abroad Lasting Three Months.

PRETTY GIRL DUPE OF A MARRIED SCOUNDREL

Lera Rotemeyer of Kansas City Deceived by Mock Marriage Ceremony.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Deserted after a mock marriage and a six weeks' honeymoon, during which her sister visited with her, to discover after fifteen months of silence regarding her pitiful plight that the man whose wife she believed herself to be was already married and had a family, Miss Lera Rotemeyer, of the Hibernia Savings, has brought felony charges against her betrayer and extradition will be asked.

Mrs. Rotemeyer is the daughter of a Kansas City official of that name, and the man she accuses is John Fairfax Allen, the son of Judge J. A. Allen, one of the oldest legal practitioners in the Eastern District, who has been sworn to by State of Texas, attorney for the Bank of San Francisco having taken after the exchange of a long series of letters and telegrams with the Kansas City police, the answers serving to verify the girl's allegations.

JILL BE ARRESTED.

Faifax will be arrested at Paola, a small town near Kansas City, where he is living with his wife and children. Miss Rotemeyer has in her possession a number of letters from her supposed husband in which he addresses her as "My Beloved Wife," "My Faithful Wife," and signs himself "Your devoted Jack."

According to the girl's story, while it is not verified by the police, she was, it is believed, married to Fairfax at the Kansas City depot on the night of November 21, 1908. She says she urged the ceremony upon him, taking after the exchange of a long series of letters and telegrams with the Kansas City police, the answers serving to verify the girl's allegations.

DEMOCRATS IN CONFERENCE.

For some time past the members of the Democratic county central committee have been considering the political situation in Alameda county and have been holding conferences with leading members of the party. The result of the conference was that members of the organization decided that the Democrats should put up a full ticket in the field, regardless of the chances of success at the polls. It was agreed at several of the conferences held, however, to "show a marriage license," and the service was read that a man at before the train on which the couple left for the west pulled out of the station.

DISERTED IN SAN FRANCISCO.

As Mrs. Fairfax, Miss Rotemeyer lived for a week with her husband in this city, after which he left her, pleading business. In the case of a three letters were exchanged, but finally even those stopped and in desperation over the state of her funds the girl went to work, securing a position as stenographer. She is now employed by the Underwood Typewriting Company here. Her home address has been kept a secret.

PERSONNEL OF TICKET.

In the ticket published above the idea which obtained at the meetings of the county committee and its advisors has, to a great extent, been carried out. Almost all of the nominees are known in this county, and some of them have on previous occasions been elected to places of trust and responsibility by the people of this county.

Robert McMillian served for four years as sheriff of Alameda county.

Warren B. English, secretary for one term as Congressman from this district about sixteen years ago.

George W. Peckham, served as secretary of the Senate of this state under the administration of Governor Hartlett, and in the last Congressional campaign entered the canvass against Joseph R. Knowland, who now represents the Third Congressional district in Congress.

So far as known Charles F. Fraser and D. M. Stewart have never before appeared as candidates for the suffrage of the people.

M. G. Callaghan is a dealer in hay and other commodities in Livermore, and is one of the best known Democrats in the county.

SERVED AS PRINCIPAL.

T. O. Crawford has been a teacher in the public schools of this city for many years, at times; has served as principal of several of them, and for a couple of terms was county superintendent of schools.

Alexander Hirshberg is one of the outstanding Democrats in this city. He is engaged in the cigar business on Broadway, 220 North Avenue, and the houses at 1126 and 1132 Eddy street.

ALL DEPENDS.

He files piled out of bed this morning at 5 o'clock. He went to breakfast after a bath and rubdown and all he could say as to what his day's program might be was, "I don't know. Depends on what I want to do."

Goth arrived early. Jeffries is particularly fond of Goth since the re-association on the stage before Jeffries began training. Rothko, Frank is the greatest wrestler that ever was, and Goth has the same opinion of Jeffries as a fighter. Jeffries' inclination is to direct his own movements from now until he faces Johnson. He was asked today whether he planned to do more work.

MIKE GO FISHING.

"I could not say," he replied, "I feel like working I will. If I feel like loafing I will do that. If I feel like fishing I will fish. All I say is that I hope nobody asks me to go fishing on the morning of the fight." "I hope you would not go," chorused the bystanders.

TO OUR PATRONS:

We take pleasure in informing you of our intended move in the near future to the "Oakland Market" located between Franklin street and Broadway, running from Twelfth street through to Eleventh street, in the Hob Building; a market up-to-date and sanitary in every respect and a long-felt want and necessity for Oakland. Alterations are now going on, and completion for occupancy will be between July 15 and August 1.

This market will be situated on the site of the first general market opened in Oakland in the year 1870 and the present firm is a direct descendant from that market in this line of business, the original firm or business being conducted by a Mr. Crossley, who sold to King & Mount; then King's selling to Mr. Buteau made the firm name Mount & Buteau, a well-known name among the old-timers to this day. J. C. Dolan succeeded Mount & Buteau and in turn sold to the one time popular and best established name in this line of business, L. C. Beem, who conducted the business for a period of twelve or fourteen years. The business was then bought by Tallman Bros., who added more fame to the old tree and gained full confidence of the people. They, in turn, sold to the present firm, who will be more than pleased to serve you in the future as in the past, only under much more modern and sanitary conditions.

Very truly yours,

Hinman & Tuttle

EPWORTH LEAGUE ALAMEDA COUNCIL GIVES PRAISE TO GILLETT

Convention Endorses Attitude of the Governor Toward the Prize Ring.

TO BUY NEW FLAG

Universal County Ordinance Requiring License Tags on Motorcycles Is Endorsed.

ALAMEDA, July 2.—Many matters of minor importance came up for disposal by the various council committees which met last night. Chairman Christensen was authorized by the building committee to buy a new flag for the city hall for July 4, the old flag which has served for many years being worn out.

The finance committee refused to appropriate $50 for Fire Chief Krauth to attend the annual Pacific Coast Firemen's convention.

The council committee last night endorsed a universal county motorcycle ordinance which will result in the licensing of motor cycles and their being taxed with license numbers which can be easily discerned by police officers in the event riders are violating traffic laws.

City Hall Deputy Corp. Christensen was granted a two weeks' leave of absence from duty. The petition filed by S. A. Hale of the firemen's association was referred to the executive committee.

Complaint that Alameda station trains did not stop long enough at stations to permit passengers to get on and off with safety was tabled on the presentation of a resolution of the Southern Pacific that all longer had been ordered to make long stops at the various stations.

The convention placed itself on record as endorsing the attitude of Governor Gillett toward the prize ring and unanimously passed the following resolution:

Whereas, The Governor of our State has by his prompt and firm opposition to the San Francisco prize fight earned the admiration and support of every citizen of the state; and whereas, The Methodist Church is one of the State's best friends to our country and earnest opponent to the prize ring;

Therefore, be it resolved, That we commend the Governor for his stand against the prize ring.

The resolution was adopted.

ALAMEDA, July 2.—Mrs. William M. Hale, of the San Francisco Fire Department, who is the wife of the late Captain Wm. Hale, died Saturday morning at 5 a.m. at Alameda.

Stage D. Hall, his son, Mrs. John V. Hale, Miss Alice Hale, Mrs. Hale's daughter, and Miss Ethel Hale, "Dollie," the wife of S. H. Hale, will be present.

At the service, the Rev. Dr. L. L. Miller, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will be the officiating minister.

Oakland's Maritime Progress.

The Federal Government and private corporation contracts which have come during the week to the Moore & Scott Iron Works, an Oakland shipyard, will be the means of riveting attention at home and abroad to Oakland's growing maritime importance. That the Oakland harbor is able to admit within its waters a vessel of the type of the British-Australian steamship, with registered tonnage of 8500 tons, and possesses shipyard facilities where her hold can be entirely reconstructed and outfitted to carry twelve hundred head of mules in safety to a South Sea sugar plantation, and where one of the largest army transports can undergo repairs that will cost nearly $500,000, are acts which eloquently proclaim Oakland's maritime and industrial advancement. It is as big an advertisement for Oakland in its way as the announcement that the municipality has taken the initial step toward putting its water-front in order to accommodate over-sea commerce transported in the largest ocean carriers employed in the trans-Pacific trade, the plans for which have been laid out on a scale that will ultimately involve an expenditure of $25,000,000.

That the contracts for the repairing and interior reconstruction of these two big steamships will give employment to approximately a thousand skilled mechanics, and to the larger number of them for a period of nine months, and that their earnings will put a large amount of money into circulation in Oakland, is a matter of secondary importance. The main fact, overshadowing all others, is the practical demonstration which these contracts give to the commercial world that the harbor and industrial facilities here have been so broadened as to place Oakland on a par with many of the principal seaports on either coast of the United States. And we may rest assured that in the future Oakland will be more conspicuous in the eyes of those interested in the Pacific Coast than it has ever been in the past.

Except in Portland, Oregon, and Spokane, Washington, the past week's business seems to have been dull throughout the Pacific Coast, as indicated in the bank clearings. Portland shows a gain of 41.4 per cent as compared with the record of the corresponding period last year and Spokane 45.2 per cent. Oakland leads all other cities on the coast with 25.1 per cent of gain to its credit. San Francisco shows 15.9 per cent of gain and Los Angeles only 10 per cent. Salt Lake figures in the list of decreases, being short 8.5 per cent of the record of the corresponding week last year. But the dullness of trade during the past week was more pronounced east of the Rocky Mountains and in the South, where a larger number of cities than usual show percentage of decrease in their bank clearings. Denver's decreased percentage heads the list with a record of 100 per cent.

Government Ban on Smelting.

The Bully Hill copper smelter at Delmar, Shasta county, has bumped up against the United States Government. The latter has ordered the works closed up if such time as the smelter is equipped with a satisfactory smoke-control stack and one that will precipitate the arsenic and sulphur fumes before what little smoke remains will escape into the air. The action taken by the Federal Government is due to the old trouble with smelting establishments, where no effort is made to purify the smoke, namely, the destruction of neighboring vegetable life by the poisonous minerals that are vaporized and thrown off in smelting copper ore, as the latter is always associated with either arsenic or sulphur or with both.

The poisonous fumes of the Delmar smelter have been destroying the Government forest timber growing in the path of the smoke discharged from the stack, just as the Keswick smelter smoke did with all the forest growth and orchards located within a radius of twenty miles of the works before the construction of a precipitating plant was forced by court injunction on the Iron Mountain Copper Company. The Government will not stand the nuisance any more than the nit growers of Shasta county would, hence the notice to close down. The company has had the good sense to comply with the order, for a refusal to do so would have invited costly litigation which the Bully Hill Copper Company had no chance to win.

There is no question that smelting arsenical and sulphurous copper ores can be carried on nobly if the smelter is properly constructed and equipped. The smelting companies invariably endeavor to avoid the expense of an effective precipitating plant, although the minerals saved through such an equipment have a commercial value or can be manufactured on the premises into a marketable commodity, for the reason that such a plant and manufactory involve the investment of additional capital and the carrying on of a business differing from that of smelting, and it is regarded, therefore, more economical and less bothersome to sacrifice the by-products by letting them escape into the atmosphere than to save them. Shasta smelters have assumed that being located in a sparsely settled and cultivated region they could meet with no interference. But the forest conservation policy of the Government has forced interference. It is unfortunate for the large working force of the smelting company that it should be driven out of employment, even temporarily, but the action taken by the Government will compel the application of an effective preventive of the evil in future which will assure permanency of employment afterward, for the presumption is reasonable that the mine and the works, which have been immensely profitable, will not be abandoned.

It's a wonder the barbers never thought of employing mind readers for cashiers and note takers.

In some respects this campaign promises to be a resurrection. James G. Maguire is a candidate for Superior Judge in San Francisco and Thomas W. H. Sennett, the "Pall" Scamore of Shasta, is a candidate for Congress in the first district.

A rather anomalous condition prevails in California at the present time. Cattle are high and hay is very cheap—lower, in fact, than it has been for several years. The scarcity of cattle and the abundance of hay accounts, in a measure, for the anomaly of high prices for the one and low prices for the other. The extensive use of automobiles is another reason, motor cars having to a large extent superseded horses for ordinary driving purposes. A bumper crop of hay was harvested this year. All sections of the State produced well, and for the most part the quality is good, better, indeed, than the average. A large quantity of wild hay was cut. A considerable quantity of hay was carried over from last year, and the presence of this old stock aided to a heavy new crop has had a depressing effect on the market. To make matters worse, there is not enough stock in the State to consume the surplus, which is larger because of the unusually good pasture this season. The high price of beef cattle has induced farmers to send to market all the meat stock fit for slaughter. Hence hay is a drug in the market at less than half the price it readily brought a year ago. California needs more cattle.

"Rat King" and Trouble

Animals born with tails generally develop some use for the tail, but misfortune may happen to them which will make them wish they had none.

A singular example of the care of the helpless is given us in the case of what is called a "rat-king"; that is, where by an accident after birth a whole litter of young rats are connected together by their tails in such a manner that it is impossible for them to extricate themselves.

This singular condition seems to originate by the mother lying upon the tails of the young rats and tossing them about with her head; their tails, usually being long, become so entwined that with a little play accumulating around the connecting parts it becomes impossible to separate them. When this is discovered, they are not left to perish by their fellowrats who, considering the helplessness of these unfortunate, take the better care of them than is usual for a mere mortals to experience.

Some time ago a "rat-king" was discovered and killed near Leipzig, Germany, of which there were seven members in perfect condition physically, except the deformity of the tips of their tails, which had grown so as to neatly entwine each other.

The rats were in the very best condition—conclusive evidence that astonishingly good care had been bestowed upon them by their more fortunate rat brethren.

Chief Kennedy of the fire department is preparing for conflagrations on the Fourth, which, one of his friends says, never come on that day. The chief says that he has for the purpose of combating the flames six hose carts, each with 800 feet of hose, with 4200 feet more in reserve, together with a new chemical engine which has not as yet been tested but which will be given a trial in the event that there is a call for its services.

The central Nationalist Club sends an open letter to the local striking carpenters in which, among other things, appears the following: "The Central Nationalist Club of Oakland desires to extend their earnest sympathy in the stand you have taken regarding the 'blacklist.' We urge you to stand all along the line and not to swerve one inch from a principle involving the right to work when and for whom you may each decide and at whatever wages you shall stipulate."

Detectives Holland and Shore catch a young man in the act of stealing shirts and blazers from in front of the Westover store on Broadway and run him into jail.

"Tip" O'Neill and Pitcher Cobb of the Oakland baseball club were at odds for several days, but have patched up their differences and are now just as friendly as ever. O'Neill accused Cobb of being sulky and the latter retaliated by ignoring the captain's orders in the ball field. The colonel took a hand in the controversy and Cobb has again submitted to discipline.

William Collier in "A Lucky Star"

GOSSIP FROM SAN FRANCISCO WEEKLIES

Roosevelt and La Follette

The meeting of Colonel Roosevelt with Senator La Follette and other so-called "insurgents" at Sammamore Hill has interested all politicians generally. The inference is that Roosevelt intends to take sides with the insurgent Republicans against the administration. It is not, however, justified. Of course, Senator La Follette and his political associates are desirous of creating the impression that Roosevelt will endorse their program and aid them. Why should they not? What will they amount to in national politics if Roosevelt should disown them? Recent events have shown that La Follette's star is waning. The effusiveness of Colonel Roosevelt's lucky star might give needed brilliancy to that of the insurgent Senator. It is very unlikely that Colonel Roosevelt will do such a foolish thing as to join the insurgents in making war on the friends he has made in the Senate. I would, for example, say that would be a much more serious mistake than the one he made in the Wasp.

Anent Ames Court-martial

Coincident with the retirement of Lieutenant-Colonel Robert F. Ames, Twelfth Infantry U.S.A., at Manila comes the news that Marian Andrews Bruguiere will figure in the divorce suit of Mrs. Henry Clews Jr. In the Philippines one scandal is unpleasantly involving the first Mrs. Bruguiere and now from Paris comes the report that the second Mrs. Bruguiere will become Mrs. Clews just as soon as the present Mrs. Clews has been freed. Mrs. Clews like all the others quilled into this patchwork romance has essayed matrimony several times with conspicuous lack of success. She was originally Miss Ruth Morris of Baltimore, and later acquired the distinguished name of Gheebhardt with Fred thrown in. Their marriage was not a success and she evidently thought she had a real clue to happiness when Clews came along—it that was likewise proven an ineffectual talisman.

Mrs. Clews has a gorgeous home in Paris the Villa Sall and I hear that Ned Greenway is a frequent visitor in her salon. Edward N. is the real Baltimore tarpon, and therefore knew the Morris family in Maryland. There is no occasion for nervous tremors about Ned's bachelor ways becoming wobbly, for Mrs. Clews shows a predilection for a man of tact. It is time now to choose a successor for you don't yourself of an incoming mate which is only following the melt adage. Never throw out the dirt water till you have clean—news Letter.

Margaret Illington And Her Husband

Margaret Illington's sudden change of mind to return to the stage is an apt expression of Burns' oft quoted lines: "The best laid plans of mice and men go oft aye." San Francisco friends who recently visited them in their Tacoma home say that they were literally happy and still seem in the Hero and I under period of courtship. Mr. Bowes' growing financial responsibilities was the only cloud on the horizon and gradually forced its way into the household as an interlude to love. Miss Illington was the one to suggest that she should return to the stage and it turned out to be the only way in which money could be raised quickly and in sufficient quantity to meet the conditions.

That Ed Bowes will recover his financial standing under these new conditions is one acquired with his energy resourcefulness and pluck will doubtless be the time he left Sacramento as a boy to make his way in the world he has experienced the good old American quality of grit.

I happened to be present once when Bowes was having his hand read by a palmist. Your heart line will never grow old, was the first sentence uttered by the clairvoyant. Certainly Bowes was never regarded by his family as a woman hater and his cronies of the Tamis Club where he was one of the pillars generally considered him as a confirmed bachelor. Despite his close reputation of a branded bachelor, the bachelors conceded the markings of a good-looking boy did him in! I mean that once Irene Grady foreseen his early marriage. At one time he was devoted to Miss Jessie, the eldest unmarried sister of Mrs. Ralph Sturtevant. Many a time the bowers were cast about the two among the passengers on his caravans and the gossips had it all but the wedding cards were out. How little the wily nodding gossip knew sometimes. During that same period almost any soothsayer might have informed them that the celestial Bowes was paving his dovers to the adored princess widow of a well known actor. Since then this charming grass widow has passed and is now living in a sumptuous home of her own near New York—The Wasp.

A Family of Admirable Crichtons

The Mizner family are said to be quite proud of the fact that they have a lion in the family. Rev. Henry Mizner who will spend the summer with his relatives in California finds his life work quite other than those of his brothers Wilson and Addison. His plan is for settlement work, his charge being in St. Louis. His mother lives with him paying occasional visits to her children out here. No other family it is imagined, could show such a versatility of talent in its branches as the Mizner lawyers, a doctor, mining man, business man, house decorator, amateur boxer and clergyman. As a side issue of bigger things, Wilson Mizner is now directing the financial interests of Stanley Ketchell, middleweight champion of the world. Most of the leading professionals are represented even authorship, for Add Mizner has written biographies and comedies. Mrs. Horace Blanchard Chase who was Miss Minnie Mizner, is one of the prettiest women in local society. With Mrs. Dixwell Hewitt and Miss Laura McKinstry, she shares the honor of being the favorite feminine guest at smart dinners.—The Wasp.

Good Story on Young Roosevelt

A good story has not yet been told about the short visit of the Roosevelts at the St. Francis Hotel in this city. Everyone in the hotel developed genuine enthusiasm in the cosmopolitan of the neck, but there was very little opportunity to exercise the elastic, for the young couple sought the retirement of their own apartment at the hotel is a matron whose husband has recently amassed a fortune in oil and when wealth is a recent acquisition time is apt to lag heavily. So this man had looked forward to a few rubber balls which she did not get. She was uniminated enough to be in the lobby when they registered. "Well," she is studying French, she would sit around and wait. She did. Voila! She has invited him. She overhauls them, engrosses them for a ride to the Cliff, and she has by means another job a hat on her elegant bride and trifle after lunch. They alight and order luncheon at the Cliff House. She manages to get the next table and orders an elaborate repast. Her training holds court on them, she can catch a word or two of their conversations. After a few moments of concentrated effort not on the food but in their direction she hears a word that cuts to the marrow (not of the taste or own marrow). The word was Frederic. "What's in a name?" I said. We found just about the same and yet the good dame would never have rushed after them if she had not confused them. But it was impossible to confuse Frederic with Theodore even if Fred had look something like Ted's published photographs. Further, moral concentration developed the fact that this young couple came from Los Angeles. The other day Harry Scott who was driving his cousin likewise escaped with a few scratches, but he has had an attack of nerves.

Mrs. Scott has a Charmed Life

Mrs. Lawrence Scott (Caro Crockett) has a charmed life for which every one is very grateful. She has been mixed up in some dreadful automobile accidents and always escapes with a few scratches. The Lawrence Scotts were the only other occupants of the car when Mary Crocker Harrison was buried to her death. Several times since then, Mrs. Scott has been in a smash up but nothing makes a dent in her motor enthusiasm—not even the collision with the Payson machine the other day. Harry Scott who was driving his cousin likewise escaped with a few scratches, but he has had an attack of nerves.

Jennie Crocker who returned from the East the first of the week has replenished her garages and now has the latest caprices in interior decoration. Miss Crocker is looking very pretty these days and is attracting the very small hats and the tailor suits that look as if the material has given out before the skirt was completed. The ultra smart tailor skirt must stop short of measuring just a yard and a half around the bottom. It goes to a notch further it looks class and cannot set us as a smart skirt. It is probably a summer fancy, but while it lasts if ma has any little scraps around you can probably get several tailor skirts out of them—news Letter.

Assembly to Open Coming Social Season

To friends here Ned Greenway has written that he expects to return from his European rambles in the latter part of October. The social season has accordingly been scheduled to open at the Fairmont with its first assembly ball on November 4th in the Louis Quince Ball room. Preparations are already on foot to make the event one of the most memorable of its kind. During the month of December two assemblies will be down on the program at the Fairmont—the first on Friday December 2d and the other on December 31st. Mr. Greenway will be in the latter gathering into the Christ party and the decorations and favors will be suggestive of all that is most representative of the patron saint of his life—good old St. Nick. The last ball of the year will also be made an evening affair. Later dates will not be set until Mr. Greenway's return as he is fully intent on that he has several surprises in store that will prove trip tent factors in setting the dates of these gatherings.

Miss Marion E. Dodd now the bride of Miles Gheebhardt, the former has been a sturdily handsome young woman with a superb figure and a taste in gowning to match. She came from Los Angeles and has stayed at the Fairmont. She is interested in a wire corporation and is said to possess a masculine aptitude for business. The wedding was a quiet affair at the Russian Greek Church—The Wasp.

Santa Barbara's Sob Squad

There is a sob squad at Santa Barbara. Of course the squad doesn't sob right out loud because it's a most impossible to sob without distorting one's face or tears have been known to spoil the most exquisitely prepared complexion. So the sob is sort of ingrown and very painful. The chief sufferers are Elsie Irwin, Elizabeth and Marion Newall and Julia Langhorne. Young Roscoe and his bride are the unwilling victims of the malady. It was expected of course that the young couple would spend their trousseau moon at the hotel and the outsiders all calculate that he San Francisco contingent will be market cornered. Elsie Irwin is engaged to Tempton Crocker who knows the bride very well, and altogether it was a foregone conclusion that this little lot would annex the ladies. J. introduces them to the sob and the ends and the lovely roads. This congenial set is very ignorant of any one who has shown poor taste in choosing parents. Inherited wealth is a pass word, and a gentleman is primarily one who does not have to work for a living but a sweet and lovely spirit can reside in people committed to the aforementioned ideals and with democratic zeal these young people decide to regard young Roscoe as a bit eccentric, not really vulgar. They prepared to receive him in just as though Tedds did not know the difference between body Brussels and Avant.

But as far as for the high resolves and noble purposes the Roosevelts did not go to the smart hotel. Instead they took a modest cottage at lovely but inexpensive Montealto and prepared to enjoy Santa Barbara in a two-story sort of way. A friend who is staying at Montealto writes me that they are as cordial and unaffected as any young couple who ever honeymooned there but they show a distinct preference for their own society, which symptom has often appeared in the first few months of married life. They held themselves just as pleasantly remote from the smart set as from the common or garden varieties of society. There is nothing supercilious, no want of confidence in this aloofness and the common or garden variety respect it but the same set particularly the San Francisco contingent has about decided that after all a man who would choose to work for a living especially when he has a "pull" is more than eccentric—he is a bit of a vulgarist! Otherwise he would have met their advances more than half way—news Letter.

To Wed in September

No positive plans have been made for the marriage of Miss Anita Habenicht and James Bramwell Reader, whose engagement was made known to the Wasp readers a few weeks ago. The wedding will not take place until midsummer probably the end of September and as the Habenichts are in mourning it will be a very quiet celebration. The bride-to-be is a very charming girl. She is the sister of that popular young matron Mrs. C. B. Sloan and of George Habenicht from Ovid translated "Ed Great way."—The Wasp.

Stole the Lady's Wardrobe

"I wonder who's wearing them now!" is the cry of Miss Braden of Oakland who on her return from the Yosemite Valley found all of her clothes had been stolen out of her apartment. The most curious thing about the robbery is the fact that the thief must be just Miss Braden's size for not only were Paris gowns and silk petticoats missing vanity bags, corals and gold purses gone but lingerie stockings and all the evening dresses had disappeared. Miss Braden had only recently returned from a trip abroad with her beautiful mother and had outfit herself from head to foot. She took outfit tops to the valley, and is now without even a street suit. Fortunately for her, the shops provide ready-to-wear costumes that she can purchase until her wardrobe has been replaced. Miss Braden is popular in society as well as across the bay. Her father is connected with the Sibley Clothing Works.—The Wasp.

San Jose Landmark Sold

The old home of the Murphy family in San Jose, a landmark in the Garden City for nearly half a century, was sold at public auction last week. Standing in its setting of wide lawns at Market and 16th and Azuleto avenues this old home is known to everybody in the Santa Clara Valley as the scene of many brilliant entertainments. History, political as well as social, was made in the old Murphy home in the days that are gone. For a long time it has been unoccupied and the ravages of decay are everywhere visible.

The house is rickety with age, the grounds are weedy grown. Owing to the accumulation of debts in the Murphy estate it was necessary to sell it at a price passed under the hammer last Saturday.

The property is very valuable, the old landmark will probably be torn down and replaced by a row of flats or a business structure. A superstitious feeling is said to be one reason why the old home will not be rehabilitated. All those who dwelt within it met with misfortune. It was erected by Josel Mason, a wealthy mining man and politician, but he died in evil days and sold it to Frank Huettner, another mining man. Revere came to Huntzman and he was forced to mortgage the home. When the mortgagor was foreclosed it passed into the hands of James McCord, a rich man of this city. But McCord seemed to incur the bad luck of the residence and he sold it to Martin Murphy, the father of Barney Murphy, the present owner. While the Murphys lived there the home was the social center of San Jose, but owing to his lavish expenditures and his extensive legal expenses he was forced to sell it.

Mr. Murphy died poor man, Martin Murphy too went through his miseries principally on account of a tender heart that could not withstand the appeals of another's misfortune. The Murphy family has passed from its affluent estate and the visible sign of the fair is a wealth and hospitality and charity will soon be no more.—Town Talk.

Carpenter's Chinese Stories

There is no white man in San Francisco who knows Chinatown and its Oriental denizens like Grant Carpenter. As a newspaperman and as an attorney he has acquired an intimate understanding of the Chinese mind and character by no means inferior to Hearn's understanding of the Japanese or Burton's understanding of the Arab. So the news that he has disposed of a series of eight Chinese stories possesses considerable literary interest. These stories will appear in the Sunset Magazine in the beginning of next year at the same time that a serial by the Willmingtons commences. I am glad to say that Carpenter has received the standard eastern rate for his fiction.—Town Talk.

The Mullally and Abbott Cases

What the Supreme Court will do in the cases of Thornhill Mullally and William M. Abbott, in whose behalf application for a writ of habeas corpus was made this week, is of course something that even the learned jurists who sit upon it are as yet unable to say. But during Mr. Garret McEnery's brilliant and impressive argument in support of the application more than one member of the court gave voice to his sentiments.

At the opening of the argument Justice Angellotti manifested some impatience indicating by his manner and words that in his opinion when a man is deprived of the right of trial his only redress is by mandamus proceedings.

This at first seemed to be a strongly inclined preconceived notion but its vindication gave Mr. McEnery the opportunity to argue the question after the Socratic method the result being that the distinguished jurist showed signs of abandoning his position. Chief Justice Beatty and Justice Henshaw expressed themselves along lines that indicated their sympathy with the views of counsel.

And Justice Shaw though he was not inclined to take a definite position seemed more disposed to acquiesce in than challenge, Mr. McEnery's exposition of the law.—Town Talk.

Married—As Was Expected

A perennially interesting topic is for the nonce banished from the chat room by the marriage of Mrs. Susie Da Neal Paxton with William H. Talbot, q. c. celebrated at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Darrah in Ardena. The bride has been married twice before the last time to William Bowen the second time to Charles Weston. Both Bowen and Paxton are dead. Mr. Talbot's former wife from whom he was divorced is Mrs. Annie Douglas Talbot a sister of Mrs. Jerome Star and the three Talbot children Vera, Eddie and Eric were at the wedding of her father with Mrs. Paxton.

The first matrimonial venture ofuse Darrah was when she was a school girl and eloped with young Bowen son of the late L. M. Bowen. It was one of those boy and girl romances based upon stable affection and the divorce did not surprise. The second marriage was happy for a time. Charles Paxton the broker who just recently committed suicide was a generous provider and both he and his dashing wife were regarded as spinsters. It was said that the time the wife sued for divorce that she had seen some one she liked better.

The millionaire lumberman whom she has just married was known to be carried away by her beauty and dash. His wife died twice before the time of his first marriage.

Both Bowen and Paxton are dead. Mr. Talbot's wife is a very pretty girl with soft brown hair and a lovely complexion. Her father is Mr. Talbot who is a brown eyed English beauty. Mrs. Whiteford Gold is a great friend of the Paxton family. She went to a dinner at the Riddle Inn Dorchester House for the wedding reception.

The Bellevue which will be opened about August 15 will also conduct that way. So San Francisco will have just four American plan hotels of the first class. Throughout the State there are hotels conducted after the same fashion notably Coronado and Birkenhead.

Everyone is on the qui vive for her next move, which is expected to take the form of a very formal announcement before many weeks. When Miss Sara Coffin made her au revoirs this spring, going East with her mother Mrs. James Coffin and her sister's wife there were those who wondered what the effect of her absence would be. The family had planned to meet Mrs. Edward Griffith in New York and Miss Sara was to accompany the latter with whom she is a great pot.

The marriage of the California heiress and the gripman proved happy.—Town Talk.

Married an English Lord

San Franciscans who met Viscount Acheson when she was Miss Mildred Carter the latest International bride, describe her as a very pretty girl with soft brown hair and a lovely complexion. Her father Ridge Carter of Baltimore the American Minister to the Balkan states at Bucharest. The bridegroom is the son of Lord and Lady Gosford.

One of his sisters is Lady Mary Ward an actress. Another is Lady Alexandra Staaten. The only unmarried sister Theodosia Acheson is a brown eyed English beauty. Mrs. Whiteford Gold is a great friend of the Carter family. She went to a dinner at the Riddle Inn Dorchester House for the wedding reception.

I remember seeing Will Talbot and his wife some fifteen years ago at the Hotel Vendome where they were spending the summer with their children. The other guests commented upon the extreme devotion of the blonde giant to the slender sickly looking wife a pretty creature but addled even to make up not always noticeable a composure. It is said that Talbot in their aristocratic drama did not look like the match. Her other son Ted Talbot had also contracted a marriage that did not fall in with the family's ultra views and was happy for a time. Charles Paxton the broker who just recently committed suicide was a generous provider and both he and his dashing wife were regarded as spinsters. It was said that the time the wife sued for divorce that she had seen some one she liked better.

Evidence of Editorial Stupidity

For a fine illustration of the arrant idiocy and stupidity that are responsible for much of the pernicious abuse with which the columns of our daily papers to day read the article to which the Bulletin seeks to justify the scurrilous attack on Senator Leavitt which is now the basis of a libel suit.

The Bulletin article presents a summary of Senator Leavitt's acts as a member of the Legislature. The article is in the nature of an indictment specifying as counts against the Commonwealth such officious acts of Senator Leavitt as were contrary to the Bulletin's sentiments regarding legislation. It is not charged that Senator Leavitt acted from corrupt motives but clearly enough it is desirable that he may be made to pay for having violated the interests of the people. Now intelligent and educated men whatever be their opinion regarding the direct primary admit that there are two sides to the question as to whether this democratic device is beneficial to the people. So distinguished a scholar as Dr. Nichols Murray Butler and so eminent an attorney as Joseph Chouteau, ex-Ambassador to England, neither of whom has ever been suspected of being antagonistic to the interests of the nation are of the opinion that the direct primary does more harm than good. But if these gentlemen had been members of the Legislature when the direct primary was under discussion the Bulletin to be consistent would have impeached its editor.

On that last trip Rosa accompanied her husband to Mexico, the land of her birth. She never returned to the United States again.

Matias has returned to his Little Mexican restaurant in Broadway a very sad man. Once Matias told a newspaper interviewer "Me and Rosa fight like hell but despite their quarrels occasioned by the possession of hot Latin tempers, they loved each other deeply and sincerely and were seldom separated." So grieved by Matias was affected by the death of his wife that he is already thinking of looking for passage on an extended trip abroad. If he goes he will probably put a sign on the door reading "Gone to Europe" will be back in six months. It was in that casual fashion that Matias announced his last departure from the city much as another might announce his going to lunch.

A Brief Sermon for Busy Readers

THE WANTS OF MAN

One of the strongest proofs of our Christianity is that fact that it meets the needs of our souls. I am not speaking of any perversion of Christ's religion, but of His religion as taught in the New Testament. All these perverts recognize the potency of the true gospel in trying to sell under its flag—assuming the name Christian. That man wants a system of worship is a world-admitted fact. Any religion to meet humanity's wants must be true. Christ's religion does this and is true—divine.

In many ways it meets our requirements. I can mention but few.

NEEDS PERFECT STANDARD

Man needs a perfect standard of morals. This he cannot supply, for written on all his attempts is the one word—imperfection. The statutes of our wisest legislators must be revised. But Christ has given us directions, which if followed, will make the perfect man. His moral code has never been improved. Strange that the great of earth cannot give us better laws than the Peasant of Nazareth. No man can fall morally who obeys Jesus. This Rev. E. McHatton cannot be sold of any other teacher.

We want a firm hope. How vain are the prospects of earth!

I am weary of hoping where hope is untrue,
As fair and as fleeting as morning's bright dew,
I long for that and whose blest promise alone

Is as sure and steadfast as Eternity's throne.

HOPE SUSTAINS EVER

This hope sustains us in all the dreary nights of disappointment. Oh how we can lean on His unfailing promises. How they drive the clouds away. This Hope with bright eyes helps us on our way. With smiling lips she pictures the sunnier path. With loving hand she pulls up the curtain and shows us the brighter tomorrow. We are sure we can surmount all of life's ills by Christ's transporting promises.

Likewise we need a comforter. How early this is seen! The little toddler rushes to mother to kiss the bruise to make it well. Even in manhood's vigor we long for the kind word. Adown the path of old age how dear the strong arm to help us over the rough places. When fortune frowns and even tears wing us to the tender sojace of friends. Yet, there are sorrows too sacred for human eye burdens too heavy for neighborly hands. Nights too black for loving eyes in the gloom. God has sent His Holy Spirit and we realize

That earth hath no sorrow

That Heaven cannot cure.

MAN WANTS TO LIVE

Man wants to live. How we cling to this earth-life. Oh how beautiful it is!

Tis a bonny, bonny world

We are passing through the now.

The earth is flecked with flowers,

Mans doted bright and gay.

This life is so delightful that we dread to leave it. Our love for such a passing life is a prophecy of a permanent existence. We desire to live. But we desire to live in the enduring home of the soul. The gospel meets this desire.

MUST HAVE PLACE TO LIVE

If we wish to live we must have a place to live so man longs for a home. How dear to our hearts is the old house and the loved ones who lived there. We hold them in precious memory. Yet our homes must be broken. The sad farewells are said and we go out in the cold. God promises us a home. Oh that blissful abode! Our dwelling evermore. Beyond Death's chilling call away from the cold cold grave, a permanenter abiding place where we shall see Him face to face. And then living with the good for all eternity. Oh this gospel must be true—must be of God, for He alone knows our needs and can supply them.

Rev. Robert L. McHatton is pastor of the Fruitvale Christian Church, Fruitvale Avenue and East Twenty-third street.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

A LINIMENT FOR EXTERNAL USE.

Cheerfulness and a bright disposition during the months before baby comes, are among the greatest blessings a mother can bestow upon the little life about to begin. Her happiness and physical comfort will largely govern the proper development of the health and nature of the child. Mother's Friend comforts much to the mother's happiness and health by the relief and mental comfort it affords. It is a liniment composed of penetrating oils and medicines which lubricate the muscles and tendons of the body, soothe the swollen mammary glands, cause a gradual expansion of the skin and tissues, and aid in the relief of nausea. The regular use of Mother's Friend greatly lessens the pain and danger when baby comes, and assures a quick and natural recovery for the mother. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book, containing valuable information for expectant Mothers.

SOCIETY NEWS of the WEEK

country place at Los Gatos in center from which interesting motor car much of their time is spent, trips may be planned.

They are likely to come to Oakland. Mr. Harry Thornton Lally and Mrs.

Old family friends of ours still and Mrs. Lally are also to be guests at the Hotel Potter this summer, and they will have with them Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lund Jr. (Miss Lally).

Mr. and Mrs. George Hammer have settled in their artistic home on Vernon

Heads, and have gone to Southern California for their summer holiday. Part of the vacation time will be spent at beautiful Del Monte, and they will spend some time also at the Hotel

Del Monte.

Miss and Mrs. Glassford (Eleanor Phelps) are at Monterey, and are spending holiday vacation days at Del Monte. They are both very popular at the Island, where Miss Glassford is at present stationed.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. GOODFELLOW AT COUNTRY HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Goodfellow are spending part of the summer at their country place near Santa Cruz. Mr. Goodfellow is very fond of yachting, and he has his own yacht in the harbor at Santa Cruz, which offers safe anchorage, and good facilities also for ocean sailing.

Mr. and Mrs. MARK REQUA AT LAKE TAHOE.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Requa and their children have gone to Tahoe for the summer, and this year they have their own cottage there, having rented for the season the cottage built by Mrs. Black, formerly Mrs. Quester Pierce.

Mr. Egan drives an automobile exceedingly well, and the roads about Tahoe are very good indeed, and exceedingly picturesquc. When they return from Santa Barbara Mrs. Requa and the Misses Long are planning to go to Tahoe for the remainder of the summer.

OAKLAND PEOPLE IN THE SOUTH.

Many well known people are now in Southern California, and plan ashore to spend part of the mid-summer holiday there.

Mrs. Granville Abbott is established at Santa Barbara for the summer, where she has taken a cottage, and she has had as her guests Mrs. Isaac Requa and the Misses Amy and Sally Long.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cole Burnham have spent the month of June in Southern California, going as far south as Coronado, where they enjoyed some delightful days. They are now guests at Glenwood Mission Inn, Riverside, and they are planning to return to Oakland some time in July.

The Samuels Hubbards senior and Samuel Hubbards junior are in their guests in their Sag Harbor home, and will make the summer Mr. and Mrs. Wickham Havens, Mrs. Oscar Long and Mrs. Hotel Potter their headquarters for the summer. It is a specially good lightful visit in the East with the Havens, two summers ago. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Partington will also be guests of the Havens at Sag Harbor this summer.

The latter are ideal hosts. Mr. Havens' jolly and congenial ways, and Mrs. Havens, bright and sweet and considerate, both try in an unselfish fashion to plan ideal summer days for their guests. Their home at Sag Harbor is ideally situated. It looks out upon a superb beach and on the expanse of water of Long Island Sound, and lack of it are the fascinating woods which afford such fascinating roads for motor trips, and which make such splendid color studies in the late autumn.

MISS AND MRS. FARNHAM AT SAN MATEO.

Miss and Mrs. Sylvanus Farnham have closed their home on Brush Street for the summer, and with Mrs. Clifford and Miss Elsie Clifford are spending the summer at the Peninsula at San Mateo.

Mr. and Mrs. MORGAN AT PIEDMONT.

Among those who have been recently at Del Monte have been Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Morgan (Mrs. Maude Hammon), whose wedding trip took them to Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan, who have returned to town, have taken up their permanent residence at Piedmont, and no doubt there will be much entertainment for this popular bride, when our young families have returned to town.

MRS. HEARST TO GO TO WYNTON.

Mr. Hearst is planning to go to Wyntoon this summer, her beautiful country home on the McCloud river.

"Wyntoon" is in the heart of the Sierras, and is ideally situated. It is surrounded by picturesque pine forest, and the beautiful McCloud river flows at its base.

It is perhaps one of the most perfectly planned of the well known country homes on this coast representing an architectural design of rare merit. It has been planned with reference to its surroundings.

All the country homes in the heart of the Sierras are open for the most part in fall, and its main characteristics are fine life and a merry and interesting girth and beauty. The building is round, because our people are beginning to understand the value in the economics of life, of forgetting for a moment the vision of "Dull Care" that stands at so many elbows.

Mr. Hearst's exquisite taste is in evidence everywhere in the interior, for she has furnished it most appropriately, drawing from that wonderful store of rare treasures which she has acquired in her many trips around the world. There are only to be found at Wynon treasures that are appropriate and effective, and it is a country home of much beauty and of rare charm.

Mr. Hearst shares Wyntoon as she shares many things, with her friends, in a generous, unselfish fashion. Her gues come from the beautiful Hacienda, or from lovely Wyntoon with many happy memories of country homes for rooms. Such an arrangement is ideal for hotel owners. With their hotels crowded all winter and spring with Eastern tourists and full of Californians during the summer and fall months the ideal in hotel prosperity is accomplished.

One's hostess is the woman whom Californians prize and honor, worthy to hold the place she occupies as a leading woman. And so a visit to the Hacienda or to Wyntoon is an honor that shines brightly amid one's memories of happy mid-summer days.

PICTURES IN THE MEDDLER.

Miss Ethel Gillett is the youngest daughter of Gov. Gillett. She has been a student at Stanford University until six months ago, when she was obliged to take a vacation because of eye trouble that threatens to develop seriously. She is under the doctor's care and is living quietly at the Statehouse at Sacramento with Mr. and Mrs. Gillett. She will make a flying trip to this city next week to visit friends.

Mr. and Mrs. George Pope and their children will also be among the Santa Barbara sojourners during July, and possibly August. Joseph D. Redding spent last week in Santa Barbara, but returned to San Francisco on Wednesday of this week. He had a delightful time playing golf at the Potter Club and at the Santa Barbara Country Club, and bridge in the evenings at the Potter and at the various Montecito homes where he visited.

He also motored through the oil country. The influx into Santa Barbara has been so great that there is not a single house of any sort to let in Montecito.

The Arlington Hotel is to be rebuilt on the model of the big Riverside Hotel. Plans have already been drawn, the contracts let and the money subscribed, most of it by prominent citizens of Santa Barbara and Montecito. The Hawes of Santa Barbara subscribed thirty thousand dollars and the Arenas also subscribed. The new hotel is to cost about three hundred thousand dollars, and will be less expensive than the Potter, the design being to have it a four-dollar-a-day hotel.

The first act of the new company was to buy the Arlington Annex, which was not burned and its lot for fifty thousand dollars, twenty-five thousand in cash and the balance in stock for the new company. The hotel is expected to be completed in October in time for the tourist trade in Easterners this fall.

It is built in a diagonal line across the old Arlington lot, leaving a triangular space for lawns and gardens in front. The new hotel will probably be called after the old Arlington, which long enjoyed an extensive popularity.

Mr. Gustave Sutro leaves soon on a trip to Vancouver and British Columbia, which may possibly extend as far as Banff.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lombard of Los Angeles, who have made many long trips in their automobile among others to Portland and to Lake Tahoe, have gone East in their automobile, expecting to cross the entire continent in this delightful manner.

Mr. Ryland Wallace and Mrs. Wallace's mother, Mrs. George L. Bradley, have returned from their European sojourn and are at the Hotel Granda, Mrs. Wallace has been away for more than a year and Mrs. Bradley has been abroad for several months.

THE MEDDLER.

MISS ETHEL GILLETT, the Governor's daughter, who will visit in Oakland over the week-end.

Among the regular residents of Santa Barbara who are at home and entertaining extensively this summer are Mr. and Mrs. Beale, who have a charming home called Sea Meadow, where they delight to give their friends a good time. Mr. and Mrs. Beale were abroad last summer.

Among the Santa Barbara residents who are abroad this summer are Mrs. William Miller Graham and her children and Mrs. Charles H. Hopkins and her son, Prince Hopkins. Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins have been visiting Scotland, but are at present in the South of France, having spent several weeks in London. Mr. Hopkins has finished his courses at Yale and at Columbia.

Mr. Calef of Montecito has purchased the Hot Springs property back of Montecito and will shortly begin the erection of a hotel and cottages there. With three large hot side Miramar and an infinite of boarding houses Santa Barbara is well fitted to act as hostess of the world.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. G. Miller and Miss Marian Miller and the younger sons and daughter of the family left for Santa Barbara this week by motor and will remain at the Potter for some time.

Mr. Mountford Wilson and his sons left for Santa Barbara on Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Oxnard and Miss Hooker also left for the same place on Thursday, and Mrs. Winslow and her daughters on Friday. All are to be at the Potter except the Oxnards, who have taken a house at Montecito.

Mr. William Irwin and Miss Holene Irwin, accompanied by Temperton Crocker, left for Santa Barbara this week and will be at the Potter for some weeks.

COMINGS AND GOINGS OF SOCIETY PEOPLE.

Francis J. Morgan Grace arrived from New York last evening and will spend July with his family at the Santa Cruz home of the Coitios. Mr. Grace has been absent in Europe for over a year, most of the time being spent with his father and mother on the family estates in Ireland and in various parts of the continent of bushy Switzerland. They are now in Paris, and after a brief visit to London will sail for home in August.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Giant and their children, after spending some months in the English country, are enjoying a motor trip through the Austrian Tyrol. They will not return to San Francisco until late in the fall.

SPENDING THE SUMMER AT HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Calhoun are rejoicing in a reunited family in their Broadway home. The four Calhoun boys have returned from their eastern schools and with their eight children the Calhouns intend to spend the summer in town.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mintzer will spend the summer at their Pacific avenue residence. Their two sons and their daughter will be with them. Mrs. Tewsbury, Mrs. Mintzer's mother, is much better than when her unexpected illness summoned the family from the East, but her health is still too precarious to permit of the absence of the family.

TRAINED ATHLETES TO MEET
AT SAN FRANCISCO ON JULY 4JEFFRIES GETS BETTER OF VICTORY ARGUMENT AT RENO
EXPERTS PICK BIG WHITE
TO GRAB JULY 4 DECISION

Jeff Gets Better of Sunny Side of the Argument; Johnson Has Many Backers Who Are Confident

RENO, July 2.—With the two big ring bruisers ready for the tap of the gong, experts and others are busy dealing out opinions as fast as they are questions and answers. Jeffries' dips, but the big white seems to claim a greater amount of the sunny side of the argument than does John son.

Tommy Burns dropped into town yesterday morning and proceeded to unload himself of his opinions. There's nothing but Jeffries in his range of vision.

OUTSLUG NIGRO

"Jeffries will win and the no men champion because he will ou-sing and outlast this night. I sent Johnson to the hospital after our fight to have his ribs attended to. What will Jeffries do to him? I will not be out to the Johnson camp because there is bad blood between us and we would surely come together. Rather than have an argument, I am going to stay away entirely."

And Frank Gotch takes a like view. "What do I think?" he asked. "When we were on the road together I thought that Jeffries was good enough then to beat Johnson and they tell me he has improved 100 per cent. That being the case there won't be anything to it in my opinion. Will I be in his corner? You bet I will—that is, there is anything in the world that I can do."

MCINTOSH SURPRISED

Hugh McIntosh was an arrival yes terday. He sized up Jeffries at Man a Springs and fell in line with the others and told everybody how surprised he is to see Jeffries in his present shape. But still he likes the black champion to win the bout. He said he prefers to see it go with the blow, so that he can not forget the way in which Johnson won the championship from him. Burns' view and half ago McIntosh referred that particular battle and where he is in a position to know what he is talking about.

Jake Kilrain won't pick the winner. He likes the looks of both men but shakes his head when questioned as to the outcome of the fight.

LANGFORD'S OPINION

As far as Langford he still be even that Jeffries will win and he still believes that he can beat Johnson though he modestly admits that he has no chance with the big fellow. Sam was included among the Jeffreys' election party this afternoon. He is a former boxer, a champion who is very friendly and each has lots of regard for the other as a fighter. Sam stood up quite a lot of alk when he announced that he is willing to jump into the ring in Jeff's place in the event that my king dies happen to the white man.

I guess everybody knows that I have already picked Johnson to win the fight with Stanley Ketchel yesterday, and I want to say right here that this is simply because I figure to win and not because I want to see him. I would like to see the white man win personally but I have been asked to give my opinion and I can't change my mind.

First of all Johnson is a wonderful blocker, the best in the world. I don't believe that Jeff will be able to land a hard punch on him. I consider that I am a faster man than Jeffries and I know that it was practically impossible for me to land. In our fight at Coors Johnson was the winner and the reason is nothing that I could say. It was just I watched Jeffries box in New York and I have seen him here in Reno and I can't say that his speed has improved.

Robert Edgren, sporting editor of the New York World came out with the statement yesterday that he picks James J. Jeffries to win the bout. Jeffries is in black and white without four fingers or a nose. I pick Jeffries because after watching the crixemans work for a solid month I can not picture in my mind that huge bulk living on the floor of the ring and Johnson will triumphantly away. I can not picture Jeffries swift and terrible. I like the girls' courage that will make him the most dangerous boxer ever to bring down Jeffries.

It seems to me possible conclusion that it is to come within 12 rounds. It may be a long fight or a short fight but if it is long I believe that it will be long because once in the ring Jeffries' ancient caution will overcome his present intention to make quick work of the negro. It may be short if the blow is hard enough will be done any night with less than 12 rounds.
